Dear Mr. Evans,

I am in receipt of your last letter and the results of the polygraph test. You evidently had an expert that was hired to administer this test. It appears as if you have people working on your case which is great. I must try and tell you again how it is we work.

First of all, we are not lawyers nor have lawyers on staff. When we take on a case, we then hire an attorney to work the case as our attorney. In your particular case, there are no avenues of new evidence for us to discover other than that of expert opinion which you already have. You say that the two doctors state that the fat emboli were result of a traumatic injury deliver hours before Cassidy's death. Those two doctors are your experts.

I have included the names and address of IP's in your area. The NEIP does handle non-DNA cases and they work within a law firm. Possibly you have already tried to get them interested in your case but you might wish to try again.

Again, currently there is nothing that CM can do to help you. We appreciate you keeping us abreast of your case and any new-found information. However, once again you will need to hire a lawyer who can present this new evidence to a court in order to grant a new trial. Remember, we are not lawyers so cannot represent you in court and any new evidence in your case requires an expert opinion which you already have in your court.

Sincerely,

Janet Baxendale
