

1
4

2
0
0
0

William Gardner expects eight to 10 recounts every election. The 26 recounts may in part be

The findings of misread ballot tial race, however, led the Dem

Investigation into toddler death could take months

By JENNIFER L. SAUNDERS
Democrat Staff Writer

KITTERY, Maine — Police are continuing their investigation into the death of a Rochester, N.H., toddler, and the state medical examiner's office has stated it could be months before the cause of death is released.

A spokeswoman for the state medical examiner's office said this morning that results of the autopsy on the body of 21-month-old Cassidy Bortner are still pending, and could be withheld for up to three months. This is typical of cases handled by the chief medical examiner, she said.

"We really have a lot more work to do to find out what went on here," Maine State Police Lt. Brian McDonough said Monday. "We'll see where that leads us."

Although no arrests have been made at this time, police are examining physical evidence and continuing with interviews, McDonough said.

The toddler died under what police are calling "suspicious" circumstances. The girl was dropped off at a Kittery residence about 8 a.m. on Thursday, according to police. Kittery police received a call about 12:41 p.m. from an unidentified man calling from the Rogers Road residence requesting paramedics for a child who had report-

☆ Toddler

Please turn to Page 2

Guatemala Health practitioners

By TERRY DATE
Democrat Staff Writer

EXETER — First, the doctor lifted his left foot and held it in place above the ankle of his opposite leg.

The doctor looked questioningly at Mercedes Gonzales and she smiled and nodded.

Next, Dr. James Kuhn lowered his foot so it remained an inch from the carpeted floor in the lobby at Access Sports

to Foster's Daily 320.

or Route Delivery.

route

red te

ond N.H.
ks - $21.09
ks - $63.45
ks - $122.58
ks - $236.51

DR BILLING:
ments concerning
s Sunday Citizen
y corrective action
Monday through by 11:30 a.m. Our 810-8988
all please call 603-
rough Friday 8:00
a.m. to 12 Noon
regarding delivery
culator Director
ver N.H. 03820
742-4455
749-5303
749-6450
888-810-8988

332-2200
692-3300
207-363-4413

ay of publication
is not financially
or the failure to tion notice will be correct any error
advertisement in claimer by the

g to withhold x conform to its
ads accidentally paper

knee and above her ankle.

A scaffolding will be placed along the leg and stretch the separations, he said. Then, through a series of adjustments, the bones will be Katerin, who loves dancing and songs — she especially likes the music that plays before Guatemalan soap operas on television — will spend six to eight weeks in Exeter.

there is a great chance that her daughter will improve a great deal.

"I'm telling her, she is in the best possible hands," Sabin tell the doctors.

Curfew

Continued from Page 1

The curfew ordinance, if adopted as suggested, would heavily fine business establishments that allow underage people to be in them after curfew hours, he said.

In preparation for its recommendation, the Curfew Task Force surveyed children, citizen, police officers and talked with coalitions, Bradshaw said.

The Rochester Police Commission has spoken against enacting such a curfew, but Bradshaw said the task force's survey of patrol officers revealed that a majority of those officers are in favor of one.

The final decision on a recommendation came through a vote of task force members. The task force is made up of city councilors, citizens and police officers.

Bradshaw, who did not vote at the task force level, said he is in favor of the curfew.

"I think it will be pretty good," Bradshaw said.

Toddler

Continued from Page 1

edly fallen, Thursday's police log states.

She was transported from the Rogers Road residence to York Hospital, where she was pronounced dead.

The girl lived with her mother, Amanda Bortner, 18, in Rochester. The mother reportedly brought the girl to the home of a close family friend before going to work.

The man caring for the child called police to report she was "unresponsive" when he tried to wake her from a nap, according to Maine State Police.

The autopsy was complete late Friday afternoon, according to the state medical examiner's office.

Residents in the Rogers Road neighborhood who had met the girl described her as a pretty child with large blue eyes who loved to be hugged, but was also shy.

Main State Police have been working in conjunction with Kittery and Rochester police as well as New Hampshire State Police on the investigation.

Budget

Continued from Page 1

get bill to be introduced in the House of Representatives.

Shaheen said her goals are to present a budget that is balanced and fiscally responsible, invests in the state's future, and meets the state's commitment to schools and the community.

"Our first priority is meeting our commitment to our schools and our children and we will work with the Legislature to craft a long-term school-funding solution that is good for our children and maintains the prosperity we are currently enjoying," she said.

The public hearings resume today with the Department of Safety, Department of Corrections and the Department of Resources and Economic Development.

The biggest spender is the Department of Health and Human Ser-

RO
and te
al Ar
which
Sev
Maple
Durha
this o
Book
nation
will be Eac
can E includ
or w Durha
tage o
ents a
the sc
nesses
The
group
ents at last m
positiv
improv
This Educa

vices, i agency
across
The
$1.28 t
Donald
billion
service
lion fo
2003.
Othe
gave a
their re
Attor
lin has positio ment of increas
inal fro
His d budget $10,953,
for 2003

LUTELY... POSITIVELY... THIS IS IT!

FINANCING FOR 60 MOS.

2000 Intrepid Loaded

Swi
ro